Quills and Feathers.

All of our readers who are interested in the raising of turkeys will be glad to learn that some profit can be made from the quills and feathers of that popular fowl. We are in receipt of a dainty little pamphlet from the Warren Featherbone Co., of Three Oaks, Mich., in which they announce their desire to buy from you the entire fleece of the turkey, every quill and every body feather that grows on the turkey. This may be a profitable investment for you if you have a lot of turkeys to sell or if you wish to become an agent and buy from your neighbors for this company. Address the Warren Featherbone Co., Three Oaks, Mich., for further information.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anemic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anemia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

SAND CAVE FLAT

Hewitt Hawkins has moved to the Henry Flock farm.

Jane Haynes made a flying trip to Cloverport last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster McKaughan attended the burial at the McCoy graveyard last Thursday.

Herman D. Lay and sister, Miss Zelma, attended Miss Cora Best's birthday party last Wednesday night, at her home in Stephensport.

Stephensport.—This scribe is not the author of the piece in the News signed, "An Observer." Nay verily.

Miss Ida H. Jarrett went to Cloverport last Wednesday to attend the protracted meeting at the Baptist church at that place.

No dominion is so boundless, no force so irresistible, as that exercised by the newspapers of to-day. The writers should be very careful what kind of an influence emanates from their pens. Opinions once uttered, "Live through all life, extends through all extent, spread undivided, operate unspent." Other things die, but long after the author has gone down to the silence of the tomb, his written thoughts live and affect mankind.

It was 200, 300 and 400 dollars that Bibles sold for in England 200 years ago. Just think what a change has been wrought in America, through civil and religious liberty. Every man and woman, every boy and girl, can own a Bible no matter how poor. Bibles are given to those who are not able to pay for them, and they are so cheap that there is no need for anyone to do without the word of God.

Mrs. Nancy McCoy died very suddenly last Wednesday. She was 83 years old, and made her home, most of the time, with her son, John McCoy, since the death of her husband, several years ago. Her remains were interred in the family graveyard on the place. Several children and grand children survive her. The family have our sympathy.

We wonder if the Glendene correspondent remembers the Thanksgiving day that he visited the Sand Cave with 25 or 30 of his Stephensport pupils. Where are those pupils now? Some of the older ones are scattered abroad. Some teaching, some going to school and some are married, and others are at home.

"Author of Current Topics."—We beg leave to differ with your opinion of "In His Steps." We believe it is one of the grandest literary productions of the age. We here give the language to which we suppose you refer. "The depth of winter found Chicago presenting, as every great city of the world presents to the eyes of Christendom, the marked contrast between riches and poverty, between culture, refinement, luxury, ease and ignorance, depravity, destitution and bitter struggle for bread. It was a hard winter, but a gay winter. Never had there been such a succession of parties, receptions, balls, dinners, banquets, fetes, gaieties. Never had the opera and theater been so crowded with fashionable audiences. Never had there been such a lavish display of jewels and fine dresses and equipages. And on the other hand, never had the deep-winter and suffering been so cruel, so sharp, so murderous. Never had the winds blown so chilling over the lake and through the thin shells of tenements in the neighborhood of the Settlement. Never had the pressure of food, fuel and clothes been so thrust upon the people of the city in their most unfortunate and ghastly forms." The above quotation is verbatim as it is in the book to which we refer. Now we think Rev. Charles Sheldon is quite right, and so is any Christian right, to oppose gambling, races, prize-fights, circuses, dances, the theater, opera and saloons, and many other of the popular vices of the present age.

Pollock says: "The theater was from the very first, the favorite haunt of sin; though honest men, some very wise and worthy men, maintained it might be turned to good account, and perhaps it might, but it never was."

"God given talent," should be used for the salvation of souls and the good of humanity. Bible Christians, those who read and meditate and study the Word of God, and every thing pertaining to Christianity and walk accordingly, are the most refined people in the world today. Those "good consecrated men and women going abroad in the land to rescue the perishing and save the fallen," caring more for the comfort of the poor and the souls of the perishing, than they do for all the theaters, opera, and concerts in the world, are the ones that are moving the world in Christianity today.

We acknowledge it takes money to found homes, hospitals and asylums, but money hoarded up by the millionaires is doing the people no good. Of course, public libraries are good in their place, but what good hungry, half clothed children can find in a public library we cannot see. Although some of the Bible patriarchs were wealthy, God said the cattle on a thousand hills were His. Everything, everybody belongs to the Lord and we should give Him our service, and "walk in His ways."

One path alone conducts aright. One narrow path, with little light, While thousands lead astray.

As to Mr. Sheldon's question, "What would Jesus do?" we think there is more than one answer to be made. When God promised the coming Messiah, He also promised that "He will teach us His way, and we will walk in His path." Isa. 53: Jesus went about doing good. Cannot we do so too? If He had not thought we could follow Him, He never would have said, "Follow me." The question "What would Jesus do?" is a good question, and if we would ask ourselves this question and be governed by His spirit, there would be a visible change in the lives of many of us.

Endorsed by the Governor

West Virginia's chief magistrate recommends Pe-ru-na, the National Cataract Remedy and Nervous Tonic.

Gov. G. W. ATKINSON of West Virginia.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN

are slow to speak for publication. This is because their influence is so great. The endorsement of Governors, Senators and Congressmen guarantees merit. Public words of praise from such prominent officials must be based on positive knowledge. The recognition which the cataract remedy Pe-ru-na is constantly receiving by men of national fame is very gratifying. Among recent letters from persons of eminence is the following from Governor Atkinson of West Virginia. The governor says:

CHARLESTON, West Va., March 9, 1898.

The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

GENTLEMEN:—"I can recommend your prescription Pe-ru-na as a tonic. Its reputation as a cure for cataract is excellent, it having been used by a number of people known to me with the very best results."

Very truly,
Gov. G. W. ATKINSON.

Cataract is the national disease. Not an American family is free from it. The search for relief and cure is constant. Experiments of all kinds are continually made without result for good. Ignorance of the causes and nature of cataract is universal. Cataract is elusive, persistent, penetrating. It may exist in any organ of the body. For this national malady there exists the national scientific remedy Pe-ru-na which for forty years has been doing a grand work.

Pe-ru-na is the unflinching foe of cataract and overcomes it wherever it may exist. It is the prescription of Dr. Hartman, President of the Surgical Hotel, Columbus, O., who gives personal attention, without charge, to a voluminous correspondence on the subject of cataractal diseases. Dr. Hartman's books on cataract are mailed on application. All druggists sell Pe-ru-na.

Order of Breckenridge County Court.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the petition in this case and in those of F. N. D'Huy and others on petition, W. H. Camp and others on petition and W. L. Smith and others on petition, were intended by the signers thereof as parts of one petition, requesting an election for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters in the Cloverport Magisterial District (No. 2) of Breckenridge county, Kentucky, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned therein, and whether or not the provision of this law and prohibition shall apply to druggists in the said Cloverport Magisterial District (No. 2) of Breckenridge county, Kentucky; Now therefore, it is ordered by the court, that these cases be and they are now consolidated, and shall hereafter proceed in the name and style of W. H. Bowmer and others on petition.

It is further ordered that all the orders in said cases of F. N. D'Huy and others on petition, W. H. Camp and others on petition and W. L. Smith and others on petition, made at terms of this court prior to this term, are now set aside and held for naught, and the order in the case of W. H. Bowmer and others on petition is now corrected and amended so as to read as follows, to wit:

It appearing to the satisfaction of this court that the petition of W. H. Bowmer and others, heretofore lodged with the clerk of Breckenridge county court, and filed in this court on the 25th day of September 1899, requesting that an election be held in the Cloverport Magisterial district (No. 2) of Breckenridge county, Kentucky, on the 19th day of December 1899, to take the sense of the legal voters of said Magisterial district who are qualified to vote at an election for the county officers, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in said Magisterial district, and also whether or not the provision of this law and prohibition shall apply to druggists in said Magisterial district, was signed by more than twenty-five (25) percent of the legal voters of each precinct of said Magisterial district, and that the last preceding general election held in said Magisterial district, it is now ordered by the court that the request of said petitioners be granted, and that an election be held on said 19th day of December 1899, in the said Cloverport Magisterial district (No. 2) of Breckenridge county, Kentucky, to take the sense of the legal voters of said Magisterial district, who are qualified to vote at an election for county officers, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in said Magisterial district, and also whether or not the provisions of this law and prohibition shall apply to druggists in said Magisterial district, and said Sheriff is ordered to give notice of said election and hold the same as required by law, and officers of election appointed by the County Board of Election Commissioners of Breckenridge county shall act as officers of said election, and the sheriff shall so notify them, and this cause is continued.
